I woke up one day, I looked in the mirror, and found out I was someone else. I hadn't realized it at first, until I started to really "wake up" and know where I was. I recognized who I was, too, I was ~~Mitchell~~ Michael Lightner, of my school. Mark Twain, I walked around the house, writing notes on what was there. I saw seven televisions, and one VHS rec. I saw over 200 records, baseball cards & stamps, lots of video games, hundreds of books, drawings, 3 videotapes, a TI computer, cars, toys & real, and stupid hats. I had taken notes on everything. I was in Canarsie. It was a Saturday. I hadn't really liked it here, as I forgotten to give my brother his birthday present (I couldn't as it wasn't with him) It was a weird day, being someone else. I went back to sleep at night, and when I woke up, I was back in my body, and instead of notes on Micha house & found note on my house in my sleeve.

Third Girl
Agatha Christie

Hercule Poirot was sitting in a chair when his butler came in & said, "A girl is here to see you, she says she might have killed someone." He sent the girl in, and she said, "Oh no you're too old," and ran out. He then called up his friend, Mrs. , and she invited him over. They talked a bit, and when Poirot described the girl, she knew him. They go on finding she has an uncle, a deceased mother & father, and step-mother. She hates her father & step-mother, and also has a boyfriend. Information is found, and they discover a woman, about 52, is killed, and that the woman was the girls father's 2nd wife (he's had 3). It turns out that the girl is mad, but the Uncle's secretary killed, planted evidence for framing, etc.
